

STATUTE

ESET Science Award

Preamble

The ESET Foundation, in cooperation with ESET, spol. s r. o.:

1. being acutely aware of the key significance of science in the development and prosperity of society;
2. intending to focus its efforts to enhance scientists' motivation to achieve scientific results of international significance;
3. with the intention of also enhancing recognition of Slovak scientists' achievements at an international level and thus elevating the reputation of Slovak science globally;

supports the Slovak science community and the overall development of Slovakia by way of the prestigious ESET Science Award.

ART. 1

Categories

The award is granted to individuals in three categories:

1. Outstanding individual contributor to Slovak science;
2. Exceptional young scientist in Slovakia under the age of 35;
3. Outstanding academic.

One award is granted in each category once per year.

ART. 2

Nomination criteria in the respective categories

1. Outstanding individual contributor to Slovak science

- a) The award is granted to an individual whose work results in the past 10 years have contributed exceptionally to highlighting Slovak science in the European or global science area, and which have a remarkable actual or potential impact on their respective scientific field.
- b) The nominee must be a scientist associated with an Organisation that is demonstrably involved in science and research (particularly Slovak universities, institutes of the Slovak Academy of Sciences, sectoral research departments, legal persons with registered offices in Slovakia) (hereinafter referred to as the "Organisation"). Furthermore, they must have been the Organisation's employee, shareholder, member, statutory body or a member of the statutory body, proxy, permanent public service employee or an employee performing work in the public interest, for not less than three years before the closing date for nominations, by which point the vast majority of the scientific results for which they were nominated, must have been achieved within the Organisation.
- c) The nominee must have been active in one of the scientific and technical fields assigned the number codes of the set of scientific and technical fields and the code list of scientific and technical fields (010000 up to and including 040500) – as defined by the directive no. 27/2006-R, dated 21 December 2006.

- d) The nominee must be regarded as an outstanding scientist in their respective scientific field (hereinafter referred to as the “Nominee’s expertise”).
- e) The Nominee’s expertise is demonstrated by the following criteria:
 - i) authorship or co-authorship of a significant published work or published works with a verifiable impact on the global research area;
 - ii) citations in acknowledged Current Content journals with a verifiable impact on the global research area;
 - iii) involvement in international research projects with a verifiable impact on the global research area;
 - iv) enhancing the professional recognition of Slovak science and research abroad in a manner other than that outlined above;
 - v) contribution of the scientific research work with an impact on society.
- f) An important criteria is also the nominee’s verifiable exceptional contribution to Slovak society.
- g) An award laureate may be nominated again three years after obtaining the award.

2. Exceptional young scientist in Slovakia under the age of 35

- a) The award is granted to a young scientist whose activity may be regarded as an exceptional contribution to the Slovak scientific field with great future potential.
- b) The nominee must be a scientist who has successfully concluded doctoral studies and who is not older than 35 years as of the calendar year of their nomination. He/she must have been cooperating with the same Organisation for not less than three years before the closing date for nominations in the respective year.
- c) The nominee must have been active in one of the scientific and technical fields assigned the number codes of the set of scientific and technical fields and the code list of scientific and technical fields (010000 up to and including 040500) – as defined by the directive no. 27/2006-R, dated 21 December 2006.
- d) The nominee’s expertise must be demonstrated by fulfilment of at least two criteria listed in Article 1 e) points i) to iv) and at all times by the criteria listed in Article 1 e) point v).
- e) An important criteria is also the nominee’s verifiable exceptional contribution in the respective research field on a global level of science in the respective field.
- f) Each award winner may be granted the award only once.

3. Outstanding academic

- a) The award is granted to an individual whose activities have delivered an exceptional academic contribution in their field.
- b) The nominee must be a university academic working at an accredited higher education institution in Slovakia (vysoká škola) (hereinafter referred to as the “University”) for at least 3 years. The nominee must have been working at the said University with a stipulated weekly working time (i.e. the extent of the employment relationship must be 100%).
- c) The nominee must have been active in one of the below-mentioned fields of study grouped according to www.portalvs.sk, a university portal, that takes into account the set of study fields published as a decree of the Ministry of Education, Science, Research and Sport of the Slovak Republic no. 244/2019 Coll. of the set of study fields of the Slovak Republic:
 - i) natural sciences, mathematics and informatics;
 - ii) technical sciences;
 - iii) agricultural and veterinary sciences;
 - iv) medical and health sciences and fields focused on improving quality of life.

- d) The nominee’s expertise is assessed according to their academic skills and scientific productivity as demonstrated over the previous 6 years, pursuant to the following criteria:
- i) conducting and initiating classes;
 - ii) professional results achieved by supervised students;
 - iii) participation in accredited study programmes;
 - iv) making the scientific field visible through the organisation of student events or other forms of promotion;
 - v) authorship or co-authorship of (a) significant publication(s);
 - vi) citations in reputable journals with high impact;
 - vii) participation in international research projects;
 - viii) student feedback and references.
- e) Each award winner may be granted the award only once.

ART. 3

Submission of nominations in the respective categories:

1. Outstanding individual contributor to Slovak science

- A scientist who meets the conditions may nominate themselves, or can be nominated by the Organisation with which they are cooperating, on condition of the nominee’s consent.
- Nominations are submitted electronically in English by filling out the form on the ESET Science Award webpage (www.ESETScienceAward.com).

2. Exceptional young scientist in Slovakia under the age of 35

- The nomination may be submitted by the direct superior in the nominee’s organisation, with the nominee’s consent.
- A scientist who meets the conditions may not nominate themselves.
- Nominations are submitted electronically in English by filling out the form on the ESET Science Award webpage (www.ESETScienceAward.com).

3. Outstanding academic

- Any university academic who meets the conditions above may nominate themselves, or can be nominated by a superior at the University for which they work, on condition of the nominee’s consent.
- Nominations are submitted electronically by completion of the form on the ESET Science Award webpage (www.ESETScienceAward.com).

ART. 4

Assessment of the award nominations

Laureates of the award in the categories “Outstanding individual contributor to Slovak science” and “Exceptional young scientist in Slovakia under the age of 35” are selected from the finalists by an international committee comprised of selected international experts (“International Jury”). The members of the committee are published annually on the ESET Science Award webpage (www.ESETScienceAward.com). Selection of the finalists is overseen by the ESET Foundation via committees comprised of experts from various scientific fields.

The winner of the award in the “Outstanding academic” category is selected by an evaluation committee comprised of selected Slovak experts, whose details will be published on the ESET Science Award webpage (www.ESETScienceAward.com) after the official announcement of the winner.

The award organisers reserve the right to choose any number of finalists and to not select a winner.

ART. 5

ESET Science Award schedule

The ESET Science Award has been granted annually since 2019.

The opening and closing dates for nominations for the respective calendar year are published annually on the ESET Science Award webpage (www.ESETScienceAward.com) – during the respective year. Award laureates are announced at the celebratory gala evening in October of the respective calendar year.

ART. 6

Awards in the respective categories

1. Outstanding individual contributor to Slovak science

- The laureate receives a financial prize in the amount of EUR 100,000. The prize is not bound to any particular purpose. A symbolic work of art is also a part of the prize.
- Finalists receive a financial prize in the amount of EUR 3,000.

2. Exceptional young scientist in Slovakia under the age of 35

- The laureate receives a financial prize in the amount of EUR 10,000. The prize is not bound to any particular purpose. A symbolic work of art is also a part of the prize.
- Finalists receive a financial prize in the amount of EUR 1,000.

3. Outstanding academic

- The laureate receives a financial prize in the amount of EUR 10,000. The prize is not bound to any particular purpose. A symbolic work of art is also a part of the prize.
- Finalists receive a financial prize in the amount of EUR 1,000.

The amount of the financial prize stated in this article represents the amount after tax under the Income Tax Act no. 595/2003 Coll. and the subsequent amendments and is not bound to any particular purpose.

ART. 7Consent to the statute, subsequent communication, and media coverage

By submitting a nomination or giving consent to the submission of their nomination, the nominee freely and unconditionally consents to the conditions of the ESET Science Award Statute. For the purposes of securing the handling and registration of the submission, assessment by the commission, notification of the results, organisation of the celebratory gala evening and the handling of its invitations and commercial marketing within the framework of the ESET Science Award, the nominee also acknowledges that the ESET Foundation may process personal data which is a part of the nomination, the corresponding documentation, as well as other data received in order to organise the ESET Science Award in accordance with our Privacy Statement. If the nomination is submitted by a third party, an essential condition of the submission is the nominee's consent to the submission. Part of the submission consent is also the nominee's explicit consent to this statute and the acknowledgement of the Privacy Statement.

By submitting a nomination or giving consent to the submission of their nomination, the nominee agrees that if they become a finalist or the winner, they also consent to the following:

- participation in the celebratory gala evening of the respective year;
- presentation of their work within the remit of the scientific award project during activities intended to promote recognition of the project (such as media appearances, public lectures, discussions) and promoting recognition of the ESET Science Award within a personally agreed scope;
- active participation in the group of ESET Science Award laureates and finalists even after the award is given in the year of their ESET Science Award nomination, within a personally agreed scope.

ART. 8Final Provisions

This statute has been approved by the ESET Foundation Governing Board and its current wording is available on the ESET Science Award webpage (www.ESETScienceAward.com).

This statute comes into force on 15 March 2021 and supersedes the STATUTE of the ESET Science Award that came into force on 16 March 2020.

Ing. Miroslav Trnka
Chairman of the ESET Foundation Governing Board